

AGC EDGE

Virtual Education

AGC EDGE is live, virtual, instructor-led courses that focus on project management, best practices in supervising teams, Lean construction, and BIM program planning, as well as job-skills-focused workshops. These courses and workshops are written for contractors, by contractors, and taught by contractors, so whether you are a general contractor or specialty contractor focusing on horizontal or vertical projects, these courses speak to your business and help set the level of consistent practices across your organization.

Each curriculum course is offered multiple times each year and those offerings vary in length of class session, time of day and day(s) of the week they are presented, so there is something available for everyone's schedule and time zone. Access from your office, jobsite, or home – anywhere you have access to internet!
